We are glad to say that there were but few ladles in this number, and trust these were not acquainted with the facts. We are almost tempted to add that there were very few gentlemen in those scats last night, while we are fully convineed that many were there whose conduct can only be characterized by the plain, simple old term of hegyish. Simply and plainly there was no one, aside from the regular officers of the oreining, who should have intrinded themselves upon that platform has evening, and any who claimed it from assumptions based on their connection with the history of the structure easly connected with one branch or the oher of the now consolidated journal up to the present time. Events of importance succeed each other so rapidly that it has become with them a habit to look forward rather than to cast any tetrospective glance to the causes which have the regular Republican ticket, except that the name of the Republican candidate for the Legislature is omitted. The object is toget these tickets out on the morning of the election, place them in Republican and with the hope that they will be used with the hope that they will be used when the logs improved to the ripe age of one with the control of the election. bdd, in which the latter were victorious the eight hours hard fighting. The former, 30,000 strong, fought under the innetroops is set down at 3,000 killed and woulded, and 5,000 prisoners—that of the Garibaldians at 2,000. In connection with the account of the fight we have rumors of the bembardment and surrender of Capua, and that three of the Great Powers of Eu-political principles. Three tiekets are submitted to the people which admit of discussion, and one ticket which admits of no discussion, and one ticket which admits of no discussion, and one ticket which admits of no discussion whatever. If you are to vote one of these three tickets, it should be done after a consideration of the principles underlying them.

The Bell and Everett ticket requires no discussion, for its supporters advance nothing to discuss. They are in favor of the Constitution of the United States, and so are all of us. They are for the whole Union, and so is everybody clee; for even the fire-dairer have postponed its dissolution till after the next Presidential election.

There are three other tickets asking your attention and solicting your votes. There is the Breckinridge party, whose principles, relieved from involution or paraphrase, may be stated titus:

The negro slave in any of the States of the Union is property, just as your hat, or your horse, or your ship is property, and being so has a right to go where it is not excluded by State constitution.

This property, no State constitution can exclude. The second fallsay is that we are not to consider what might have been made property, biowever much that question may interest philosophers, but what has the Constitution and supposed that they gave to the white man the same power over the slave as over insuling the another. They would have said that any man might have been made property, being they made that ichase about "persons owing service in one State excepting to another." They would have said that any man might have been made property have placed it on the basis of one man owing labor or service to another, it has property, wherever he could be recovered, and the Fugitive Slave bill, so a slave is in its meaning a "person owing service." For those who don't like it, there is an easy remedy, to change it in the manner required.

They have no confidence in their own doe tring for when their humainer texplire.

They have no confidence in ken to Canada, for 'instance, they reclaim it; but if their slave escape there, the Southerner meets him, 'shakes bands, and answers his in-quiry, "How is Massa?" and never dreams of charging piracy upon Great Britain. The Lion of Engiand creets his mane, and the Southern-er runs back to his country and his mamma. But all the powers are invoked, and all charges hought against us. If the escaping slave runs through our States to first we cannot estell him. through our States so mes we cannot eaten him.

Another ticket is presented asserting a principle of great importance, reaching back to the early history of our courty. It is that no one has any power to make laws for the Territories but the people of the Territory thomselves. This is the "great principle" of Mr. Douglas.

The Disunion Humbug.

(Correspondence N. F. Eve. Post.)

The disunion cry has increased here and throughout the South within a few days. It is intended for effect in the New York November election. There are many prominent democratis here who believe that New York will give her vote for the fusion electoral ticket—hence this bluster again, and the renewed attempts to defeat Lincoln. It is said that more than one Gabinet member is implicated in the proposed treason, and the gailty parties are urged on by northern members of the Cabinet. But it must be remembered that these random threats are intended to prevent Lincoln's election, and really have no reference to the State of things after his election is accomplished. Neither Governor Wils nor Secretary Cobb will stir a step towards dismion after the Novembor election has taken place. It is more than likely this Yancey, Kelit, & Co. will attempt the secession of South Carolina, and Alabama—to be put down at home by the citizens of those States, who are less fanatical and more reasonable than those gentlemen.

Real estate in Washington is higher than it ever was before, and I know instances where professed disunion Democrats hold on to property with the expectation of an increased

Among other things which have bubbled up from M. Janicot's wrath, are the words had Domberdeux, as applied to King Victor Ennanuel, a term which was inspired in the brain of the happy inventor by the operations of the Piedmontese army and many at Ancous. All italy, M. Janicot Bhiks, is going to be given up to Cialdinism and Marxistem. As to Cialdinism, the victorious arms of that General stand in evidence; but as in Marxinism, the great propagandist has again gone under, if is hoped for the last time, so that M. Hatch, Mann & Co. to the Treasurer of S. C. HITCH YOUR HORSES,-At the Police Court A. T., amouncing that they did not trust for oysters, and the Society's order not being ac-companied by cash had therefore failed, Grand-father Noah feelingly quoted the line of Mr. "Mona's lubumanity to man," etc.

San.—We learned last evening that S. B. Berry, a well known undertaker of this city, was in a very critical condition, if still living, owing to his exertions in connection with the recovery and identification of bodies of the victims of the Lady Eigin disaster. Mr. Berry was indefitigable and overworked himself, and the effect upon his system, it is feared, will have a fatal termination.

ATLANTIC.—Norris & Hyde, 100 Dearborn street, have this morning received the Atlantic Monthly for November—full of excellent literary matter. Among the contents are a discriminating article on "Thomas Hood." "Fayal and the Portugese," by Rev. Mr. Higginson; "Midsummer and May," and the commencement of a story, by Miss Harriet Prescott.

GORN PLANTERS.—Farmers and those intercetted in Corn Planters, will find a matter of strument, and next with a Porto Rico molasses horizofa, borrowed at a neighboring grocery, and this results noted down by Ignanodon, and afterward compared with a transcript of the legend of an ancient signboard copied by Buggins, "To Chicogo 4 Milea." The results varying somewhat, Grandfather Noah made a final observation to the effect "that it didn't make a diff of bitterence," whereupon the question of latitude was abandoned.

Great interest was awakened by a discovery of ancient remains, bearing a strongressanblance

A leading and indeed princips particle the visit was the exploration of an exceedingly interesting hydrographical feature of that region, in a sudden rise of ithe waters of the South Branch, which there seems a height of from five to six feet with the greatest case. Even the non-scientific observer of the waters of the South Branch, especially during the warm season, will readily accord to them a strength equal to the task of running up hill, but to S. C. A. T. was reserved the first scientific research of the facts and their causes.

Iguanodon accosted a person of mild exterior at this remarkable "reversed fall" with the sion, which might not happen once in a centu-ry, for securing additions to the Cabinet and Museum of S. C. A. T., which was, he re-gretted it, running very low. As custodian of the Museum, he confessed that he was human, and cats on the roof of buildings, under his window at night were—inhaman, to use a mild

We ask the honest portion of the and Bell men if, for the mere sak of the indefinite extension of slavery, the opening of the African slave trade, and the opening of the African slave trade, and the perpetuity of the institution, we all know.

Mr. Lincoln is for maintaining the Union and the Constitution intact, is opposed to the extension of slavery, and in

Do not take it for granted that somebody will do all this; but select the men—such men only as are trustworthy and reliable—publican answers will be presented in my next to the revival of the African slave trade, opposed to the extension of slavery, and in posed to the extension of slavery, and in avor of leaving the subject of its ultimate extinction to the peaceful and voluntary action of the States in which it exists. Here Northern men especially, accustomed as they are to the blessings of free speech, free mails, a free press and a free pulpit, cannot possibly regard with indifference the prospect of inaugurating a policy which would deprive him and his children of these safeguards of liberty. A vote cast for Lincoln a vote for maintaining them—a vote cast throw the election into Congress, is a vote in favor of giving them all up. This is the ative Men of the North! which do for a fair, just and economical administra-tion; for all measures which prom-ise to put this government permanently on the side of free-soil and free men; for the beneficent Homestead measure; for a mod-ification of the tariff in such a way that a fair share of the advantages of incidental protection may be reaped by our own far-mers, laborers, and mechanics. See them; Last spring, when the municipal election in this city was pending, letters were sent off South where many of the Irish labor-tic from Northern Illinois were profitably explain to them that this noise about Popular Sovereignty is only clamor without reality behind it; that the Dred Scott dogoyed, saying that Gurnee was sure to seted, that Chicago was to be greatly oved, and that the "byes" must come mas of the pro-slavery men, are, if allowed to control the legislation of the country, improved, and that the "byes" must come home. They came, voted, and are here yet; but most of them have not been employed half the time during the whole summer. The false Democracy are again playing the same disreputable game. D. N. Barton & Co., Democrats, or at least opposed to Lancola, contractors on the Louisville Canal improvement, have their bills up for laborers, on a work that will give them constant employment for three or four the Territories or States; that Mr. Douglas has not the remotest chance of an election; that the real contest is between Lincoln that the real contest is between Lincoln and Breckinridge—slavery restriction and slavery extension by the power of the Federal Government; that the Republican party is truly national and conservative, with none but patriotic and Christian purpeopers, on a work toat will give them constant employment for three or four years; J. B. Ashly & Co, ferocious Douglacites, have a job on the Mobile & Ohio road, and, in perfect good faith, advertise for a thousand men, at wages which no zation which can give any guarantys that it will govern the country justly in the spirit of the Fathers of the Republic, whose spirit of the Fathers of the Republic, whose principles and policy it inherits. All men not sodden with prejudice and hate may be made to see these things; and, seeing them, unless false to themselves, their councontractor in the North will think of pay-ing; Mr. Marshall, of this city, Democrat try and their Maker, they can be induced to ry and their Maker, they can be induced to vote for HONEST OLD ARE.

See to it, that Republican foreigners who are legally entitled to their papers of naturalization are furnished with them; and see to it further that all these exercise their newly sequired rights of citizenship, and vote. In every county there are more or less of these; and they are wanted to swell less of these; and they are wanted to swell ed number of liggers every day; he has ready taken down over two hundred and ess of these; and they are wanted to swell the majority by which Illinois will declare for the Republican faith. See the young men who will vote this year for the first time. There are many of them. Entreat them not to signalize their assump-tion of the rights, duties, and responsibili-tles of citizenship in a Democratic Reput-

It is known to everybody that there is a superabundance of laborers in Chicago; that there is but little improvement going on; that what is in progress will be suspended when cold weather sets in; that there is a prospect for a tight winter among the poor or classes, and that steady and remunerative employment during the inclement months will not, if the laborers are not deceived, be thrown away. Now what does the Times & Hereld? Says, and swears, that these advertisements are Black Republican tricks to diafranchise the Irish voters; that they must not go; that there is labor here in abundance; that there is labor here in abundance; that the new gas company are to lay down their pipes this winter and that there will be employment for all. All that is simply heathenish—a political dodge by which a few hundred men, at the cost to them of work for themselves and bread for their families during the whole winter, are induced to remain here to vote the Douglas ticket!—It is a repetition of the trick by which many of the same men tles of citizenship in a Democratic Reput-lic, founded on the immutable principles of Right, by casting their first ballot for the extension of a system of human servitude, which is the concentration of all human Wrong. Point out to them their obliga-tions to the true Democratic faith, their vi-tal interest in the freedom of the Territo-ries and in the speedy enactment of a Homestead Law by which they may be-come owners of the soil. Bid them range themselves under the banner of Liberty, and there take service of which they will never be ashamed!

CLOSE UP THE BANKS!

Hardly two weeks will elapse before the people of the whole country, except the kingdom of couth Carolina, will be called upon to choose national rulers for the next four years. Our Republican friends in the Northwest have been earnestly at work for months to secure a triumph for the principles which we believe are necessary to the perpetuity of the government on the basis upon which the Pathers organized it. They have done an immensity of gratuitous and patriotic labor in the distribution of documents, in procuring for the people an opportunity to hear distinguished speakers act forth the necessity for the application of remedies to existing disorders in the body politic, and in perfecting an organization without which labor is vain. In Illinois, especially, the Republicans have done their whole duty. There is no State in the Union, not excepting Indiana or is the Union, not excepting Indians or Pennsylvania, that has been fought like this. In every part of it the Republicans are thoroughly aroused and confident of victory. But much yet remains to be done.

The fruit of the days of toil are yet to be reaped; and our laborers must still keep in the field. The time for monster meetings, and for the distribution of documents has passed. They have done their work. But passed. They have done their work. But the men whose faith has been strengthened by the appeals of our speakers and by the printed evidence laid before them, and the new men, who, impelled by a sense of duty, are now acting with us for the first time, must be got to the polls. The labor, then, hereafter, is in the townships and precincts, and upon the local committees a weighty duty is deceived. They will see to it same wherever they may be—in Texas or Iowa, in Minnesota or in Kansas? This doctrine, if true, would plant slavery in every State in the Republic. No such thing as prohibition could ever have been possible. But if the right be limited and conditional, it follows inevitably that the sovereign people have power to restrict its exercise within the domain which they govern in common. Nor can this point be successfully controverted, unless it be shown that the people of the States, through their Congress, can exercise no jurisdiction whatever over their own Territories. If the power to make an organic law for a Territory, and upon the local committees a weighty duty is devolved. They will see to it.

I. That arrangements are made for a fair Republican representation in every Board of Inspectors of election, to the end that no Kansas and Wisconsin frauds upon the ballot-boxes may snatch a well earned and righteous victory from our hands, II. That teams and men 'are engaged, in satvance, to get every Republican voter to advance, to get every Republican voter to the polls. This work must not be left to chance in any precinct in the State where our friends can enumerate half a dozen ballots. To do this job effectually, yoting lists should be prepared, and as early as 2 o'clock in the afternoon, every man who has not deposited his vote should be sent for and entreated to come. Provision should be made for the infirm and aged, as A.—The horse and the man are sof property in the same sense. Let the slave kill his mas-ter, and, if the law be observed, he is tried, if a rainy day were expected. This is all V. Southern Hilmois Conference and Slavery.

BUNKER HILL, Til., Oct. 22, 1860.

Editor Chicago Tribune:

The Southern Hilmois Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, now in the tour of the couth, scattering broadcast his damiable doctrines, and we see no reason why greater indulgence should be shown to Douglas while engaged in the same office. Both are working to the same end, the subjugation of the South, and we see no reason why a white flag should not protect one traitor as well as another.

We do not counsel harsh measures against Judge Douglas. We would not have him come to bodily harm. Such treatment although he may merit it, would compromise the honor of the South. But we would have him treated with neglect wherever he appears, we would have such condemnation of his principles and his purposes evinced that in the language of the Memphis shealmach, "remorse may strike into his very heart, and retribution ring through his every veins," until humiliated and abashed he may slink back to his Northern fastness, never again to show his bloated visage in any Southern community. That's all the harm we wish Judge Douglas for the present. session in this place, has by an almost unani-mous vote, just adopted the report of their Committe on slavery, a copy of which I send

I will say further, that the Conference has just heard of the assessination of Rev. Mr. Bewley, by a pro-sharery mob in Texas; and a set of very pointed and foreible resolutions in regard to the matter, were introduced by

1. That we rejoice in the fact, that from the commencement of its existence, our church has occupied decidedly anti-slavery ground; and has always had upon record, a pointed earnest and solemn appeal against the evil of and has always had upon record, a pointed earnest and solemn appeal against the evil of slavery.

2. That while we announce this fact without any hesitancy or concealment, se unhesitatingly and distinctly avow our determination to refrain from participation in all opposition to slavery that is not of a peaceful and legal character; consequently we affectionately but earnestly solicit our friends everywhere, to frow upon all attempts for the forcible dissolution of the relation of master and slave, which, by the sanction of municipal law, exists in the slave-holding States of this confederacy.

3. That while we concede to slave masters their vested right in this particular, we must affirm our right and that of our brethren every where, freely and peacefully to discuss the evils of slavery; and we insist, that such discussion cannot under any circumstances, whatever, constitute the least infringement upon the natural or vested rights of any portion of the citizens of our country.

4. That in order to demonstrate the compatibility of an anti-slavery church, distinctly avering its determination to labor for the extirpation of slavery, with social order and tranquility in slave holding communities, we point with antisfaction to the history of our ecclesisatical organization from the date of its earliest existence, and to the statistics exhibiting the great numbers both of masters and slaves who have been gathered into its pale, and fariushed with the bread of life through the labors of its ministry.

5. That in view of the facts, exhibited in the foregoing resolutions, we reflect with repret and amazement upon the attempt recently made in a neighboring State, to forcibly disperse one of the annual conferences, when in peaceful seasion under the supervision of one of our chief pastors; that we deeply sympathize with our afflicted brethren, both of the entire church.

5. That in view of the advisory character of the new chapter upon slavery, we regard it as really more lenient to our brethren who are unhapplyly connec subsequently published and circulated under his frank, uttered the following sentiments:

I think I have watched the course of the President as careful as those men! and although there has been many things that I myself might not subserbe to; yet at the same time, I know the high responsibility of that position, I know that few men can fill it without being surrounded with difficulties; I know that it is the most delicate, and highest, and the most honorable position that man can fill upon earth, and I always yield to the President of the United States, he Adhest positior respect, I ENTERTAIN THOSE SENTIMENTS TODAY FOR THE PRESENT OCCUPANT OF THE EXECUTIVE CHAIR.

"As an individual and an American citizen, I WOULD BE WILLING TO CONCEDE TO EVERY SOUTHERN MAN THE RIGHT TO GO INTO EVERY TERRITORY WITH THERE BLAVES AND HOLD THEM THERE UNTIL ASTATE CONSTITUTION IS FORMED."

"If I lived in a Southern Territory, among ED."

"If I lived in a Southern Territory, among Southern men, I WOULD OWN SLAVES MYSELF. I WOULD NOT THINK THAT I WAS THEREBY GUILTY OF A MORAL WEONG."

WRONG."

Keep it before the people, that when a member of the recent Democratic Congressional Convention, which met at Fon du Lac, and renominated this pro-slavery man Larrabee, of fered a resolution expressing disapprobation of the above sentiments, the gag rule was applied, debate cut off, and the resolution promptly rejected by a cote of 50 to 22!

Attempted Fusion in Ohio.

[Correspondence Cincinnati Commercial.]

The attempt at fusion by the Douglas Democratic managers to day was a failure. Only six of the twenty-one composing the Douglas State Central Committee were present, and none of the Breckinridge or Bell Committee. Those present were Manypenny, of Franklin; O'Nell, of Muskingum; Stont, of Monroe; Cass, of Coshocton; Mount, of Cincinnati, and Armstrong, of Sense.

Only four Douglas Electors present—Durbia, of Eric; Flagg, of Cincinnati; Foss, of Freble, and Stayman, of Delaware.

The meeting was held with closed doors, and proceedings kept secret; but it is known that nothing was done for want of a quorum; and after much discussion, those present determined it was too late to try to do anything. So there will probably be no further attempt to get the Committee together with a view to fusion, and the project is abandoned. F. O.

LET THE SOUTH LOOK OUT.

The great disorganizer is still on the tramp. When lest heard from he was among his congenial friends that dispute with the crawfishes for the slashes of Mchigan, and was holding forth to the Abolitionists of Kalamano about the ineffable beauties of Squatter Sovereigaty, and the grateful duty of hanging Southern patriots. Not content with the mischief he has already produced by blighting Democracy wherever he has visited, he meditated additional trachery, and would extend his nozious influence to hitherto uncontaminated regions. He is about to make the tour of the Southern States, scattering his poison as he coes. The following is an authentic list of his

We get the news from Dr. Shreeves, of Fairview, a nephew of the Dr. Shreeves above referred to, and who has no doubt as to its authenticity. He says Mr. Bybee was a friend and neighbor of his nucle's, and an acquaintance of afteen years' standing.

No letters have been received from Dr. Shreeves or Mr. Foster for eight weeks, by their friends at Fairview, a circumstance of fearful portont, as heretofore they have been prompt correspondents. At no previous time have they permitted letters to them to remain so long unanswered.

In our sympathy for the afflicted friends of these marryrs to the cause of free labor, we have no disposition to bestow upon the authors of this enormous crime, those denunciations which their guilt deserves. "Vengeance is mine," saith the Lord, and these rufflan murderers cannot escape the malediction which made Cain a wanderer and and outcast upon the earth.

We will remark, by way of explanation, that Dr. Shreeves was not only not an Abolitionist, but we are informed by his connections at Fairview, was in favor of slavery, and was preparing to make investments in negroes. When he left this State he was a Douglas man. The only grounds for disturbing him was his being a Northern man, and coming from a section where free white labor is respected. tional treachery, and would extend his noxious influence to hitherto uncontaminated regions. He is about to make the tour of the Southern States, scattering his poison as he soperated by the search of the suppointments, reaching, it will be seen to the very day of the Presidential election:

This, we think, is the most impudent and most disgraceful demonstration ever made by a Presidential candidate.

For three mouths this itinerant pedler of Yankee notions has been hawking his pinch-beck principles about the country, to the infinite disgast of all sensible men. He has made speeches wherever a handful of people could be assembled to hear him—speeches at railway stations, speeches from hotel windows, speeches at college dinners, speeches at indimination when only a Hitle high, in his coat and collar, speeches at night when more than half seas over, in his inght cap, speeches viadictively ferocious, and speeches whatever. He discalma all aspiratious for the Presidency, and talks as if he would not accept it if offered to him. Then, wherefore is he making such strenuous exertions to obtain it?

It is not probable that Douglas will be kindly received at the South. Since his recent visit to Virginia it has become plain to the simplest understanding, that all his efforts during this canvass have been directed to the furthernace of Lincohr's interests, and to the destruction of the Democrate party. It was for the accomplishment of these objects that he interfered to prevent a fusion in Pennsylvania of the elements opposed to Black Republicanism, and thereby procared the defeat of the Democratic nomlnees. The following exultation over the victories of the Republicans, achieved recently, is from the St. Joseph (Mo.) Free Democrat:

Black Republicanism triumphant—Pennsylvania leads the column—only 33,000 majority and rising—Olé Abe has "heerd" from Indian—10,000 majority—Abraham calls for an axe and a man—Olio blacker than ever, 25,000 majority—Abraham perfectly cool—It suits him—Freedom wins—Keystone Boys, Buckeye Lads, Hoosier Rail-splitters—Victory everywhere—My great principle, in a born—Breck-inridge nowhere—Belleverett fused, unfused and confused—We have met the enemy and they are ours.

It is our delightful task as public journalists to announce the fact that PcBhsylvania, Indiana and Ohio have been "heerd" from. They have been and gone and done it—all three of them.

A Stranger's Tribute to the People of Chicago. One of the editors of the New Orleans Picaone of the editors of the New Orleans Res-years who was here at the time of the recovery of the body of the lamented Lumsden, in writing to that paper particulars of the event, after mentioning a number of our citizens who had made special exertions to contribute to the success of the search for the bodies of the lost, save.

But if I were to give you a list of all who sympathized with, proffered aid, and gave it, I should give you a list of nearly every man in Chicago, with whom I had the fortune to make acquaintance. I am more particular in mentioning these, because on the first occurrence of the disaster, there were harsh things said, and justly, of the conduct of a portion of the longshore population, in regard to the property which came on shore. These criminalities were indignantly reprobated by the great masses of the population, and have not been repeated. They were the acts of a law-less few, who took the opportunity of a sudden occasion of great distress to plunder what they could reach; but the people are no more responsible in their character than the citizens of New Orleans would be for the pilferings on they could reach; but the people are no more responsible in their character than the citizens of New Orleans would be for the pilefrings on the sudden breaking out of a great fire.

On the contrary, no community could have behaved throughout this sad affair with more unvarying and distinterested kindness and maniliness than have been displayed towards our poor friend. He came to them almost a stranger; they made him their guest, and have cared for him with a rare sense of the highest duties of hospitality. Disaster fell upon him while in their household, as they thought, and they sought for his remains with faithful interest as for a brother. We, who have known him long, know how worthy he was of such interest. They extended to him, exactly the generous and loyal cares which he was always so prompt to extend to others. If any one of these had fallen into trouble and grief, here, it was in the nature of Lumaden to do what has been done for him; to take them into his large heart, and extend his open hand, to help them, living; or restore them, dead, to the cares of mourning friends. It is a beautiful thought—that these noble hearts should so instinctively have turned to each other.

It may not be without other beneficent uses, Mon. Alexander H. Stephens on the Irrepressible Conflict.

We take the following paragraph from a speech by Hon. A. H. Stephens, delivered at a Douglas and Johnson rally, at Atlanta, Ga., on the 25th of September, and published in the Southern Conycierary, a Douglas organ, of the 28th:

"But, believing as I do, that slavery is the normal condition of the negro, and that it is one of the fixed laws of the Creator that it shall exist, I believing the content of the fixed laws of the Creator that it shall exist, I believing the state of the fixed laws of the Creator that it will cavet in every State in the Union."

"Mr. David Levi has just returned from Arizona. Coming up the Mississippi, as the boat stopped at Natchez, a vote was taken for Precidential preferences among the passengers. One very respectable-looking merchant from Ohio voted for Lincoln, with the remark that it was uscless for him to disguise his sentiments. The other passengers immediately stripped him, covered him with tar and feathers, and set him aftoat in a cance."

He entered the sering to non-intercourse com handled, can turn New England upside down in six months. Half her population would be spers in less than twelve months from the y Southern States ceased to trade with her." Missouri.—The Breckinridge State Committee of Missouri have issued a long address severely denouncing Douglas, and inquiring why any Democrat can still persist in support-ing him. In regard to the election of Lincoln, ing him. In regard to the election of Lincoln, that event is conceded, and the sentiment of the Committee is expressed as follows:

"We do not despair, but we concede the probabilities of Lincoln's election. In that event the people of the extreme Southern States will feel that their property and their lives are endangered. Many of them, doubtless, will urge a dissolution of the Union. Missouri has everything to lose, nothing to gain, by the happening of that event. She should do her atmost to prevent it. Now is the time for her to act."

Coming to His Senses.—Old Mr. Bennett seems to be recovering his senses, which all seems to be recovering his senses, which all admit have been astray for this many a year. The Hersid has persistently predicted commercial panic, dissolution and civil war, as the inevitable result of Mr. Lincoln's election. It has now made the important discovery the Mr. Lincoln is a conservative, Union-lovi man. It concedes his election as beyond man. It concedes his election as beyond a doubt, and says:

"It appears that 'Old Abe' is a conservative Republican—that he contemplates no war upon the constitutional rights of slavery in the slave Statest—hat his platform is the Chicago platform in good faith, and that his general policy upon slavery will be to conciliate the South into submission, instead of exasperating her people into open rebellion. His cabinet, too, will be made up of Northern and Southern men."

We have good reason for affirming that a very large number of Southern gentlemen have already personally paid their respects to Mr. Lincoin and entered freely into conversation with him respecting the views that will control his administration in case of his election to the Presidency, and that the noble frankness and patriotism of the man, and the innate conservatism of his mind, have won for him their respect and admiration, and their assernance of confidence and co-operation.

for Breckinridge. Douglas never stood any chance in the State, but it was feared that he might draw off a few thousand votes, enough to give the electoral vote to Bell-Everett.

A New Idea.—The Hon. Andrew Ewing, Hon. Felix Zollicoffer, and the Hon. Noil S. Brown, all of Tennessee, have gone to New York State to appeal to the partnotism of that State against the success of Lincoln.—Memphia Appeal.

This is a new idea, and an innovation. The appeals in that State against Lincoln have all been to the pockets of the State.

PERNYLYANIA.—The Fusion, or Reading ticket, as it is called, recently adopted by both branches of the Democracy of Pennsylvania, or rather a portion of them, does not include any Bell-Everett representation. That party is turned out into the cold.

HAYDOGME MAJORITHES.—The majority for Hon. Thad, Stevens in the IXth (Lancaster) District, Pennsylvania, is 14,404; and the majority for Hon. G. A. Grow in the XIVth (Bradford) District is 8,008.

Viaginkia.—The excitement at Wheeling, Va. upon the receipt of the news of the elections of the 9th inst., was as great as at any place of its size in the country. The Intelligencer gives an account of it, and states that at a quarter to twelve a dispatch was received from Philadelphia smoonneing the election of Curtin. The stall-ways, hall and office of the Intelligencer were choked up with people, and from them went up one universal shout. Not

The party shen drove to Mount Auburn, on the way to which the Mayor pointed out the various points of historic interest—such as Longfellow's house, formerly Washington's had-quarters, and the tree titider which Washington stood wheth he assumed personal compiland of the army. At the cemetery the visit was a brief one. The Prince was taken to the various tombs which are remarkable for their beauty, and was shown the chapel and the 6th servatory, from the top of wilch was obtained a wide riew of the surrounding country. Having planted two frees, he proceeded to the most significant part of the day's visitation. He had expressed to the Mayor an carnest desire to see Banker Hill and the Moutiment, and in compliance with his request, it was determined to take him to the spot. No police were on hand to restrain the crowd from following close upon the heels of the party, and when the Prince had alighted from his carriage it was with great difficulty that the entire suite were gothen made the Monament. The autographs of the entire party are in the visitor's book. The spot where Warren fell and the remaining portion of the American Fortifications received the marked attention of the Duke of Newcastle and Gen. Bruce, who were evidently much impressed by the place and the memories connected with it.

They noted a fying visit to the navy yard, and Duke of Newcastle and Gen. Bruce, who were evidently much impressed by the place and the memories connected with it.

They paid a flying visit to the mavy yard, and then with lightning rapidity drove through the city, where they visited a remarkable number of places in a vary brief space of time. Mayor laincoin's house, the Massachusetts Historical Society's froms, the Dowse Library and the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, were rashed through as a belated traveler holts as hasty diffiner, and then the Prince was taken by several members—Boston's wonderful clique—to the Free Library, where the rest of the earth clique and about four hundred of the cardicular and the seven were gathered to misst him. Volvet-covered chairs were placed in front of Story's "Flaher Boy," and twenty-six other chairs surrounded them. Edward Everett stood at the head of the stairs, while the speciators surrounded the charmed circle. The free and nuite were conducted in by Mr. sweet fit, and subsequently, a great many there were fit, and subsequently, a great many there were fit, and subsequently, a great many there were fit. Yesterday, accompanied by the Mayor and at least twenty thousand citizens, he was eccorted to the superto car that was to take him to Poritiand. He had been suircuinded by and completably odesiped by Everste, Winthrop and company since his arrival here, almost to the entire exclusion of 60 v. Banks and his associates. The Duke had noticed this, and in a very quiet way put an end to it. He requested Mr. Hooper to make out a list of prominent State and national officials from whom his might obtain concerning the state of political feeling here and Eigelow were invited to accompany he Royal party to Portland, to the utter exclusion of those respectable but vary antiquated members of the self-glorification club, prominent amongst whom are those who have eiged the youthrul lion. [From the Paris Correspondence Bosico Post.]
The claim of Mr. Parrish on the Emperor personally for the sum of 2600,000 has been the cause of much controvery in Paris during the week. By most people Mr. Robert Parrish is deemed a sufferer from exciteinant of the brain
on a subject which, from its very magnitude, was calculated to create a loss of equilibrium.
That the gold mires do exist, and that the American have evidently had knowledge of them for some time, there can be no doubt

The mine is that of Bambouk, eithested on the Feierle, which emptice itself into the Senegal river. This lister river is preserved by treaty entirely under the control of French arms, and no ships of any other nation are allowed to enter the harbor of St. Louis, lest their crews should penetrate late this interior. The finbulous wealth of these Bambouk mines has long been known, as no fewer than four sovereigns of France have been on the point of fitting out expeditions to visit them. A traveler who returned thence in 1846, said he had met there two Russian geologists, who had been dispatched there by the Emperor of Russia ostensibly to compare the quality of gold with that of the mines in Siberia, but in reality to make a treaty with the King. He declared that the wealth of the country was beyond description, inhabited by Moors of industrious habits, and well inclined of civilization. 33 Lake Street, No. 1, 24 Ploor, Chicago, Ill. ction guaranteed or money refunded, [sel5-d68-3m] 7. In 1852 there was a great talk amongst the inglish here of an expedition to be fitted out y Masterman for a visit to the mines. The ian of the exact spot in which they are situ ted, and the route by which they are to be ained without raising suspicion in the Frenci MILLAR'S NEW PATENT authorities, were submitted to a company of English engineers, and the arrangements agreed upon, when the death of the principal agent in the affair put an end to the speculation. There is still something to be done by English enterprise. The secret of the manner of approach has been well preserved, and Liverpool might still secure the prize with a little exertion. The papers relating to the various expeditions fitted out by the French Government are easy of access to the library of the Marine, and there exist two persons in Paris who have beheld with their own eyes the wonders therein mentioned. as told to him by the celebrated authoress:

When she was very young, a Mr. Crossley, who was younger still, became so attached to her as to offer marriage. She told him that she would have accepted him at once, but that neither of them could boast of possessing a stogle shilling, and the result was a prospective engagement, to be realized only so soon as means were apparent for their subsistence. To devise this, she suggested as a career that an application should be made to the Marquis of Hertford for a cadetabile in the Indian army; and, as Crossley's family had some local claims, their request was successful, and he was speedily appointed to a regiment in the Presidency of Madras. THE FASHIONS.—Fall styles may be now said to be extensively introduced. For gardens, awns and trees, both forest and shade, a quiet drab or "dead leaf" tone is noticeable, if not a novelty, and will be worn for some month months to come. Trimmings have gone by and indeed are very nearly out of style, only other styles of leaves, grasses, buds, and eve fruit have passed out, and there will be fresh trade orders mell another eason. It not as yet noticeable that the visit of th Prince of Wales has affected those styles in th east. The season for bright tints seems have gone by, and such are only admissible kyer effects, say at dawn or sunset, with a occasional gala hight of the Adrora Borellis As the end of the year approaches, the Januar ettlements will bring in a general shade "dun," which will be worn by all who do no attend to their little bills in time.
